

JAMES S. MATHUR
MathurMD@ags-health.com

EDUCATION

UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO, GRADUATE SCHOOL OF BUSINESSChicago, ILMaster of Business Administration: Concentrations in Strategy, Finance and AccountingMarch 2004*

- Recipient of University of Chicago's Ruth Bamberger Scholarship for academic achievement
- Active in Health Care, Investment Banking Groups
- GMAT 750; Dean's List in Spring 2003 & Winter 2004 quarters

RUSH MEDICAL COLLEGEChicago, ILDoctor of MedicineJune 1997*

- Selected member of special team-based problem-solving curriculum for 24 students
- Volunteered monthly as student physician at local clinic for underprivileged citizens

UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN, ANN ARBORAnn Arbor, MIBachelor of Science, EconomicsJune 1993*

- Chosen as biochemistry teaching assistant for 100 students
- Awarded Undergraduate Research Assistantship working with mentally-ill children at University Hospital

EXPERIENCE

ATTENDING PHYSICIAN- Board-Certified in Internal MedicineMultiple sitesTraveling PhysicianJuly 2001 - present*

- Developed treatment strategies for patients, performing 9,000 encounters at facilities in Illinois, North Carolina, Tennessee, Florida, South Carolina, Missouri, Wyoming, Nevada, Texas, Arkansas, and California

HospitalistPhoenix, AZAugust 2000-July 2001

- ABIM Certifying Examination score of 281 (90th percentile), with content scores of at least 90th percentile in cardiology, oncology, infectious disease, and endocrinology
- Performed 12,000 patient encounters associated with 97% patient satisfaction rate
- Cultivated strong professional relationships with local medical directors; serviced 6 contracts due to 20% average patient-day reduction and high patient satisfaction
- Mediated disputes among providers, hospital administrators, and health plans while promoting cost-effective, high-quality care
 - Negotiated medical admission guidelines resulting in 25% reduction in patient-days for a health plan
 - Advised cross-functional team as physician representative of Quality and Improvement Committee for a large health plan; improved care guideline compliance by 10% based on random chart audits

MAYO CLINICRochester, MNSenior ResidentJuly 1999-July 2000*

- Directed team of specialists as code team leader in providing acute cardiac life support for 15 patients
- Delivered 20 presentations to junior residents and attending physicians resulting in a journal publication
- Mentored and supervised 30 physician-interns who were learning to provide high-quality patient care
- Fostered effective physician-patient relationships with 15-20 political dignitaries and celebrities

Junior ResidentJuly 1998-July 1999

- Administered 2 clinical research protocols funded by National Institutes of Health within a budget constraint
- Initiated outpatient clinical practice coordinating care for a panel of 300 patients
- Submitted two case studies: 1). 22 Year-Old Female with Febrile Syndrome and Erythema Nodosum; 2). 54 Year-Old Male with Antiphospholipid Antibody Syndrome and Bilateral Adrenal Hemorrhage

InternJuly 1997-July 1998

- Delivered 1750 oral case presentations to cross-functional group of physicians and allied health professionals
- Spearheaded assessment and developed strategy for treating 600 patients
- Created practical Palm-based database program contributing to the rapid adoption of PDA usage by Mayo resident physicians

ADDITIONAL

- Successful completion of the Chartered Financial Analyst Program
- Certified enriched-air scuba diver with experiences in San Carlos, Catalina Island, and Hawaii
- Can leg press 500 pounds (body weight 150)